

The deployment review is closing

What is the deployment review?

The Veterans' Support Act 2014 potentially changed the eligibility of some deployments that were previously not considered Qualifying Service.

Qualifying Service explained (<https://www.veteransaffairs.mil.nz/eligibility/qualifying-service/>)

We looked at over 100 deployments to make sure that support is available to those who the Government intended us to support through The Act.

We also invited the public to give submissions of deployments they believed we should look at.

What happens next?

The review of deployments is now ending and we are no longer accepting submissions.

When the work is complete, we will publish a summary of what declarations we have made or changed.

Thanks to everyone who made a submission.
